SUBJECT: 2011-12 Student Financial Aid Demographic Comparisons

Please find below information on the financial aid program for 2011-12, including total awards by fund type, student demographics, and student outcomes.

The data shows continued growth in the financial aid programs at Foothill and De Anza Colleges.

Financial Impact, 2011-12

De Anza College

- ✓ De Anza College is serving about 11,000 financial aid students out of about 38,000
- ✓ De Anza College distributed more than $30 million dollars in aid
- ✓ De Anza College financial aid students generate more than 40% of total FTES for the college

Foothill College

- ✓ Foothill College is serving about 6,000 financial aid students out of about 27,000
- ✓ Foothill College distributed almost $16 million dollars in aid
- ✓ Foothill College financial aid students generate more than 30% of total FTES for the college

Demographics

Financial Aid students, compared to the general student population, tend to be proportionately:

- ✓ Enrolled fulltime
- ✓ Have transfer or degree attainment as their goal
- ✓ From under-served populations – students who may not have received equitable resources as other students in the academic pipeline:
 - Students from low income backgrounds
 - Student from ethnic groups that have been under-represented in higher education

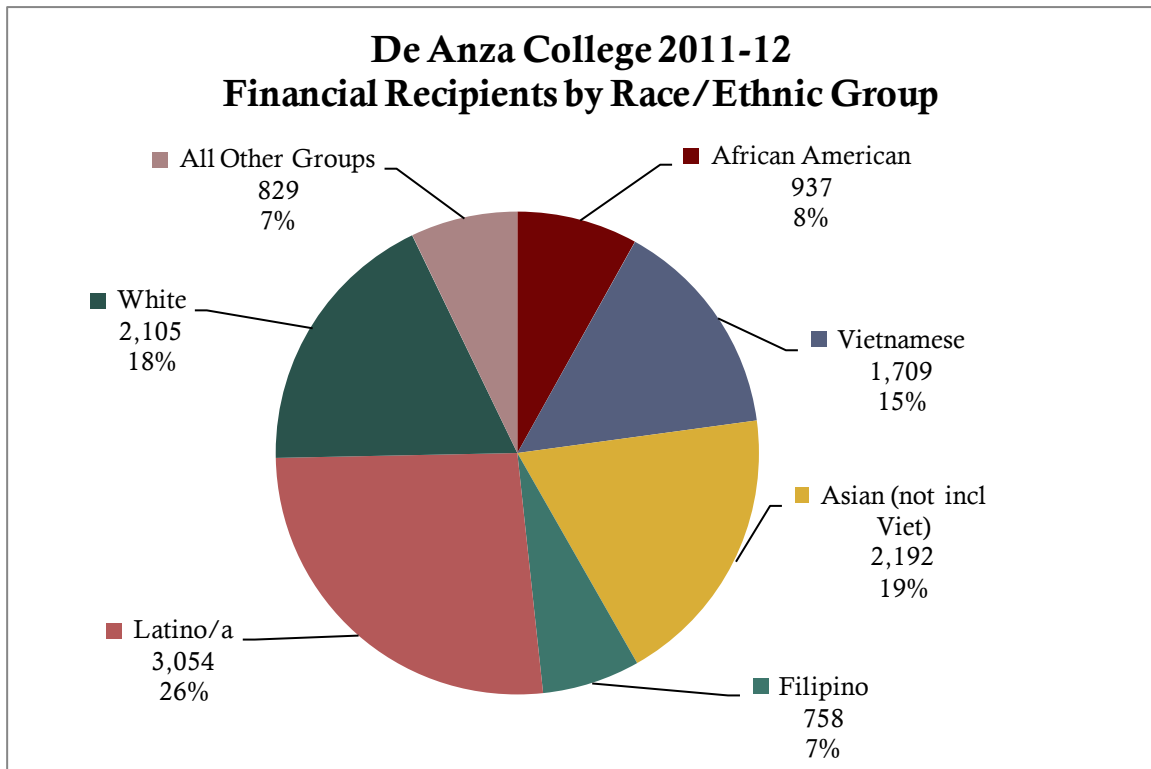

Outcomes:

- ✓ Overall course success rates are lower for financial aid students compared to general population of students
- ✓ Fall to winter persistence is higher for financial aid students

De Anza College Student Financial Aid Demographics, Year Ending 2012
October 26, 2012, Andrew LaManque, FHDA Institutional Research

- The unduplicated number of students receiving aid is up 10%.
- Pell Grant recipients are up 5%, though the amount awarded declined -2% because of a change in the rules regarding year around aid.
- About 3/4ths of financial aid students indicated degree or transfer as their initial goal.
- 52% of Vietnamese students received some type of aid, compared with 23% for White, 42% for Latino's, and 55% for African American students.
- Vietnamese students represented 15% of all financial aid recipients compared with 9% of all enrolled students during the year (see Figure 1 below).

Note: A "financial aid student" is defined as a student receiving any type of financial aid over the course of the fiscal year, including scholarships, loans, grants, and fee waivers. For the purposes of some data tabulations that might change each term (e.g. attempted units), the first term of enrollment is used.
